Subject: FW: NAAA Convention/scholarships

Greetings,

My name is Steve Sautner, owner of Dealers Auto Auction of Alaska, Inc. in Anchorage. We are a long time Alaska business that employees 20 full time people. We are members of the National Auto Auction Association, which will be holding their annual convention at the Marriott Wardman Park hotel in Washington D.C. at the end of this month. This is a very large convention, which attracts high level executives from all areas of the automobile industry. During this convention, members from various states donate items to be auctioned for the benefit of the NAAA Scholastic Foundation. This foundation provides scholarships to the children of employees in the industry, whom have excelled and have shown motivation to continue their education, but do not have the financial resources to do so.

I have seen some donated items fetch tens of thousands of dollars at this event of approximately 1500 people. We have been trying to think of something uniquely Alaskan to donate to the Scholastic Foundation Auction. With the current popularity of our Governor and First Gentleman, I believe that an autographed item would bring hundreds, if not thousands of dollars at this event. A donated item such as this would give the State of Alaska great exposure.

With recent events, I understand that Governor Palin has an extremely busy schedule and her time is in high demand. Any consideration for an autographed item would be extremely appreciated. We could provide the item, or something as simple as a photograph would be wonderful.

The item may be addressed to the: To the 2008 NAAA Convention

We would be happy to arrange pickup/mailing. Item should be sent to: Attn: Steve Sautner

Subject: BP Call Tomorrow

Governor,

Marty and I were discussing Tuesday's call, and we wanted to add a few BP specific points to your notes:

1. This is your first interaction with the CEO of BP, Tony Hayward. Previously, you had met in your Anchorage office with Bob Malone, head of BP's North American operations. Mr. Hayward took over for Lord John Brown in May 2007. He is a Brit with a PhD in geology who came up through the ranks at BP. He's 51 years old; married with two kids; likes triathlons and soccer.

2. BP holds a large portion of the Pt. Thomson Unit, so he may raise that issue during the call.

3. The state is getting close to completing our review of a possible civil claim against BP for the Prudhoe Bay shut-down in August 2006. The claim would be for lost revenue due to their negligent maintenance. Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

That's it. Marty will participate in the call. Tom and I will be listening in. Good luck.

MESSAGE:

Dear Governer Palin,

I have a long time friend, John Douglas Jones, who we have applied for a disability waiver through Alaska fish and game department. Mr. Jones has neurophty which is a degenerative nerve disease.

He is on limited income, disability SSI, I understand that your office has fifty hunting license waivers at your disposal annually and many go unused each year.

I am requesting that your office grant him a waiver for the hunting trip of his lifetime, PLEASE?

Myself and Greg Morgan will assist our friend in his two week trip to enjoy the beauty of Alaska. Greg and I spend two or three weeks in Alaska every year.

We spent thousands of dollars each year supporting fish and game, local economy and will continue but this would be a great blessing to Doug's family in lower expenses as well.

Please let one of your staff know of your decision as we plan on traveling to Alaska on September 7, 2008.

My 10 yr old daughter has Down syndrome so I feel connected to you in a special way. I'd like ot pass on this that no one told me until too late. You can massage your son's upper palate while it is still not fused so it will be larger and easier to control tongue thrust. And please tell people to refer to our children as children with Down syndrome not Down syndrome children.

Stat Alert –September 4, 2008: Sallie Mae - NCES – Role of community colleges in educating the population

The National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) has devoted its supplement to its annual Condition of Education report to the role community colleges play in educating the population. Among the findings highlighted in Community Colleges: A Special Supplement to The Condition of Education 2008 (http://nces.ed.gov/programs/coe/2008/analysis/)) are that community colleges conferred about 70 percent of all associate's degrees in 2005-06, 43 percent of which were in liberal arts and sciences; that about 30 percent of recent high school graduates first enrolled in a community college; and that about half of the students who began at community colleges in 2003-04 were still enrolled in postsecondary education by 2006, with an additional six percent having left postsecondary education with a degree or certificate.

The Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE) strives to maintain excellent communication with the education policy and research communities. To subscribe or unsubscribe to the Policy Alerts and/or Stat Alerts distribution lists, please email your name, title, and organization to Jeanette Porter at jporter@wiche.edu. These electronic distribution lists are used only to support WICHE-sponsored programs and to share resources about relevant issues in higher education policy and research. As an additional resource, WICHE maintains a Policy Publication Clearinghouse on the web at http://wiche.edu/policy/Clearinghouse, which includes past Policy Alerts and Stat Alerts, as well as other studies, reports, surveys, and policy briefs.
